NO. 18.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE ARE MARRIED.

One of the prettiest weddings of the year occurred Monday morning when Miss Reese Shimfessel and Mr. George B. Wiggins were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Shimfessel, the Rev. Judge Mann officiating. The wedding was, in some respects, a surprise to their friends, as it was understood that it would not take place for some time yet.

The bride, who is only seventeen years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Shimfessel, and one of the most charming young ladies in Clay City. The groom has been employed as operator at the station here for the past year, and is thought highly of by all who know him.

The young couple had made arrangements to take a bridal trip to the groom's home in Tennessee, but, owing to the difficulty in securing a substitute operator, the trip had to be postponed until a later date.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins are making their home with the parents of the bride, but they will take up housekeeping in a short time.

LOSES THREE FINGERS.

While working at a jointer at the Brodhead-Garrett mill last Saturday, John Patton had the misfortune to have his left hand caught in the machine with the result that three of his fingers were badly mangled, and had to be amputated. Drs. Martin and Williams attended him, and he is reported as doing nicely now.

WANT CAVALRY HORSES.

Several buyers of horses for the foreign governments which are engaged in the war, are purchasing horses around the country for shipment to Europe, but the prices offered are scarcely high enough to tempt the owner of a suitable horse to let go of him, unless he is compelled to. From $90 to $130 is the usual price offered, and good horses are worth more than that.

The past week has been ideal for hog killing, and all over the county farmers are enjoying the excellent porker, while the city people have to be contented with boiling of country hams and delicious sausages or else put up with packing house products, and pay exorbitant prices for that.

The jail at Beattyville is filled to capacity, there having been an unusually large number of convictions at the recent term of Circuit Court. It was rumored that one man who was sentenced would be liberated from the jail by his friends, and Judge Hugh Riddell, acting as sheriff, ordered the jailer to have a special guard of five men at the jail until further notice from the court.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL.

THANKSGIVING 1914, finds us at peace with the rest of the world, while the great powers of the Old World are at war with each other; the Mexican situation on our borders is clearing, and the American citizen is indeed little of soul who cannot approach this Thanksgiving Day with a proper spirit.

Mr. Moneybags, as you sit down to your Thanksgiving feast and stimulate your jaded appetite with the sparkling spirit of the vine-clad hills of France, be thankful that the hoofprints of cavalry have not, as there, despoiled the smooth sward of blue-grass that you look out over so fondly, and rejoice that the little streams that laugh through your peaceful aeres are not red with man's blood.

Mr. Middleman, if your salary has been cut a little; if you find it necessary to tighten up on the outgo so that the "tongue may meet the buckle;" if you are apprehensive that you may have to put that "Ford" in cold storage, still be thankful that you are not lying in the trenches, with the flash of flame in your eyes by day and the thud of grave sod in your ears by night.

Mr. Wage Earner, be thankful that the dinnerpail has thus far been kept well filled, even with four days a week. The good wife and the little ones, with you there to encourage them, can somehow manage with a somewhat lighter pay envelope far better than on the miserable pension that a soldier's widow received.

"Some ha' meat and eanna eat,
And some would eat that want it;

But we ha' meat, and we can eat,
Sae let the Lord be thankit."

KENNON'S MILL BURNED.

The saw mill of J. M. Kennon on Hardwicke's creek, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The cause is unknown, but it is supposed to have been set on fire, as there was no one there at the time, and no fire left about the place. This is the third time that the mill has caught fire in the last year.

SHORT DOCKET AT CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit Court adjourned at Stanton Saturday noon, after a short session. Several indictments were returned by the Grand Jury.

In the suit of Judge G. M. Derickson against the L. & E. for damages for personal injuries sustained by him when alighting from a train at Stanton in August, Judge Derickson was awarded $1,000. Judge J. M. Stevenson, of Winchester, was attorney for Derickson, while the railroad was represented by Judge S. M. Wilson of Lexington.

The case of Tom Pettit, charged with the murder of Bob Blanton, a negro, in Clay City, in August, was put over to the March term of court.

STANTON.

Mr. S. D. Hall, of Fayette county was calling on his many friends in town this week.

The Pettit case was continued till the next term of court.

Mr. Dave Lucas has his barber shop running in the Chaney building by the depot.

Mr. Tom Kiser, wife and little daughter, Nancy, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Norton last week.

We would like for Miss Margaret Norton to tell us who that fine looking young man was with her Sunday. We are all interested greatly.

Mrs. Bettie Hardwick returned Tuesday from Winchester where she had been for several days visiting her son J. H. Hardwick.

Mr. Dave Lucas returned Tuesday from Cincinnati where he had been to buy a bill of goods for his store across from the depot.

Mr. Lane, father of Mrs. Jeff Martin died Tuesday night at the home of his daughter. He was in his 77th year and his death had been looked for a long time.

County Judge J. M. Stevenson of Winchester was here last week attending court. With Mr. Charley Spencer of same place they took in the entertainment at the College Chapel Friday night.

Mrs. M. A. Phillips left Monday for Louisville where she will visit among her daughters and kin folks. Her daughter, Mrs. Anna Todd, is here while she is away.

This goes to the editor too early to tell of the entertainment held at the college today (Wednesday). The nature of the entertainment has been kept a secret by the scholars and we all go with pleasant anticipation for something good.

Mr. T. P. Anderson visited his daughter, Mrs. Mattie O'Bear of Lexington this week. Mr. Anderson had the misfortune to cut the end of his thumb off last week. He was sawing a board when he slipped and thrust his hand in the way of the saw teeth and cut off about a half inch of the thumb. It is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. John Jackson is very low again and his daughter arrived Tuesday from Gordonton to be with him. He took a sinking spell Sunday and is in a very serious condition. We have seldom seen an instance of more loyalty and devotion to his father than that of his son, Charley, who has been constantly at his bedside acting as nurse as well as a help in the home.

Dr. T. B. Smith, of Lexington, and proprietor of the celebrated Smith's Lung Tonio was in our town Wednesday of this week, and give it in next week's issue.

Dr. Smith says that he has cured over two thousand cases of consumption with his remedy and that he has calls from all over the country for his medicine. Coming up on the train this week with the writer he told of a number of persons that he had cured who live in and around our own county.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis and their little daughter, of Hamilton, Ohio, were called to the bedside of Mr. Davis' mother at Jackson. Mrs. Davis and daughter stopped off two days and visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anee Norton before leaving for Jackson Saturday. When they return back to Ohio they will move to another town three miles from Hamilton where Mr. Davis has another position awaiting him.

The recital given at the College chapel by Mrs. McNemary was greatly enjoyed by those who heard her. There was a very small crowd present. Evidently the people of Stanton do not care for such things. As this recital was an experiment as to future entertainments we doubt if the college will go to the expense of having any more such. Only half enough was taken in to meet the expenses of the recital. We were in hopes that the people of Stanton would show their appreciation for these things so that we could have had many more this winter.

Mr. Lennie Crow and his new bride, who was a Miss Chaney from McCormick where Mr. Crow was agent for some time, are citizens of Stanton now and we give them a royal welcome. As soon as the writer moves from his present home they will move in and set up housekeeping. Mrs. Crow is well known here, having visited the family of Tilford Abner, cousin of her people. Mr. Crow is a splendid young man and we are glad indeed to have him as our depot agent. He made a good record at Cynthian Junction.

The burning of the Pompeii school house which was noted in last week's paper was not much of a loss to Powell county. They were sadly in need of a new school house at that place and it was a shame that it was used as long as it was as a place for school purposes. The writer was out there several Sundays last year and it was with great difficulty that we could keep warm on some days, even when we huddled to the stove. The pity of it is that it could not have been torn down and the logs gradually burned up as stove wood. Our Superintendent has been having some splendid school houses erected in different parts of the county and we feel assured she will soon give the contract for a good warm building at Pompeii.

The writer has been away so much this week that he has not had time to find out the news of the Circuit Court but he will try and give it in next week's issue.

KILLED IN ARKANSAS.

Word was received here last week that Nathan Day, son of Walter Day former State Treasurer of Kentucky, had been killed while working in a sawmill at Melbourne, Ark. Walter Day formerly lived in Clay City and was related to John and Floyd Day. The son, Nathan, who was killed, was born at Vaughn's Mill, and is well-known here. His mother was Miss Mattie B. Mize, before her marriage, and she is a sister of J. W. Mize, of Vaughn's Mill. He also had several other relatives in the county.

Nathan Day was an exemplary young man, who was well liked by all who knew him, and the news of his death was received with sorrow here. The details of the accident resulting in his death have not been learned here, it being only known that he was killed instantly in a sawmill.

ANOTHER YOUNG DEMOCRAT.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Niblack are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a handsome 11 pound boy.

DISEASE HAS BEEN CHECKED

The foot and mouth disease, which has been playing havoc with the cattle trade for the past two weeks, is now about under control, and the quarantine is being lifted in several sections.

PASSENGER SERVICE

TO BE IMPROVED.

It is said that very shortly another passenger train will be put on the L. & E. between McRoberts and Louisville, although officials will not verify the report. Mr. W. A. McDowell, general manager of the L. & E. passed through here last week with a number of L. & E. officials, including Milton H. Smith, W. E. Smith, M. L. Mattox, and others familiar with traffic conditions. It is said that a new through train without change, will be put on between McRoberts and Louisville.

The writer spent several days in Morgan county in the interest of his Sunday School work and also was present at the opening gun for nation-wide prohibition at Lexington Monday night when ex-Governor Patterson of Tennessee gave a splendid lecture against the evils of the liquor traffic. We will dwell more later on as to this great movement that is being launched for the abolition of the liquor traffic from the United States. One hundred speakers of national fame are lecturing all over Kentucky this week in the interest of this movement and every man and woman who is against this business is asked to help in the fight.

COLONEL WALTON TO RUN

Col. W. P. Walton, the veteran newspaper man, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. Col. Walton's announcement was, in a way, a very unique one, as he disclaimed having been besieged by a multitude of friends to make the race, or having been promised the support of any individuals or parties. However, this lack of encouragement has more than been made up for since the announcement, as his friends are flocking to his standard, and the press throughout the State has been emphatically in favor of his candidacy. No better man could be selected for that responsible position than Col. Walton, and, having been a consistent worker for the Democratic party for many years, he is entitled to this reward.

A Pike county grand jury returned indictments against 1,100 persons for vote buying and selling, or for perjury in connection with the elections in that county. This is a pretty bad reputation for any county to have, and it is evident that an official similar to Judge Benton is required in that county for a while. A few years ago it is probable that almost as bad a showing could have been made by some counties nearer home than Pike, but the prompt action of Judge Benton did a lot towards discouraging the habit of trafficking in votes, and at present the evil is almost stamped out in this county.

EDITOR IS MADE A COLONEL

Editor Spencer Cooper, of the Hazel Green Herald, has been promoted by Governor McCreary to the rank of colonel of the staff.

Colonel Cooper is one of the best known newspaper men in the State, and had it not been for his energy in establishing the Herald in 1885, it is probable that very few people would ever have known that there was such a place as Hazel Green. Several times since the establishment of the Herald, Colonel Cooper received flattering offers to remove his plant to various other mountain towns, and also turned down good offers on the editorial staffs of well-known city papers. However, he stuck to his first love, and the Herald today is one of the most widely known papers in the State. It first gained National prominence when Max O'Rell wrote his famous story, "Jonathan and His Continent," in which he stated that the Herald was one of the only two distinctive American papers, and since then it has been widely quoted by other papers throughout the State.

Colonel Cooper is himself a gentleman of the old school, whose company is always a pleasure, and whose wide views of life have not been cramped by his living in the comparative solitude of Hazel Green. Had the Colonel in his younger days, chosen a political career, he would have received high honors, or had he accepted any of the flattering offers made him to write for papers with National circulation, he would have been famous, but he considered that, having established the Herald, it was his duty to stay with it, and do his utmost for the good of the mountain people among whom he lived. The rever from the Herald was never more than enough to live on, and in his old age, Colonel Cooper is obliged to continue his labors. The press throughout the State, and particularly in the mountains, where he is better known, consider that an honor has been done the craft by Governor McCreary in his appointment, and none extend congratulations any heartier to the new Colonel than the editor of The Times.

CASH BASIS BEST

A number of Kentucky newspapers, owing to the increased cost of printing material, etc., have raised their subscription price. A still larger number of the weekly papers have announced that they have placed their subscription business on a basis of cash in advance, strictly. That is the better plan. It does not pay to carry non-paying subscribers for the sole purpose of making a good circulation showing. There is not much money in circulation at the best and a good many papers handle their subscription lists in such a way that there is no money at all in it. Sensible advertisers are more impressed by quality of circulation anyway and are not apt to be impressed by a big list of subscribers that is mainly composed of persons who pay in promises.—Frankfort State Journal.

BOYS PIG CLUBS BEING ORGANIZED

So much interest has been taken in the Boys' Corn Clubs that were organized at the Kentucky Experiment Station that the authorities are now preparing to extend their work by the organization of Boys Pig Clubs. The object of these pig clubs is to boost the livestock industry and furnish a way for the boys on the farm to make some extra money. The boys will be assisted and encouraged in their work by the Experiment Station, and any information that will be of benefit to them will be furnished free of charge.

Members of these clubs must not be over 18 years of age, and each is to own and care for at least one pig. Records must be kept for at least four months, showing the cost of production, etc., and this information will be of great value to the members, and will tend to bring about the rearing of a larger number of hogs.

The corn growing clubs have been a great success, and there is no reason why the pig clubs should not be equally so. Any one interested in this matter may obtain full information by addressing the State Pig Club, Agent Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

FARMERS' WEEK

The attention of all farmers and stockmen is called to the "Farmers' Week" to be held at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, January 4 to 9, 1915.

"Farmers' Week" consists of a series of exercises and exhibits of interest to farmers in the various branches of agriculture and includes the annual conventions of the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, Kentucky Beef Cattle Breeders' Association, State Horse Breeders' Association, Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association, State Sheep Breeders' Association, Kentucky State Poultry Breeders' Association, Kentucky State Bee Keepers Association, State Horticultural Society, and the Kentucky Corn Growers' Association. Each club or association has its own program, participated in by its members and also by the faculty of the agricultural college and by certain men from other States, of national or international reputation in their respective lines.

Competitive exhibits will be held in corn and various other grains, in dairy products, poultry, fruits, tobacco and various other work. Very tempting premium lists have been provided and the exhibits compare favorably with the best in the country.

Of all the various agencies at work for the advancement of agriculture in Kentucky, the work of Farmers' Week is one of the most important. After attending one of these meetings, the open minded, progressive farmer returns to his home greatly benefitted by what he has seen and heard, he is refreshed and has a new enthusiasm for his work upon the home farm in which he clearly sees possibilities which before had seemed vague if they had been thought of at all. At this great gathering one comes in friendly contact with the best and most progressive farmers and stockmen of the country.

Reduced rates have been granted by all the principal railroads in Kentucky.

Farmers' Week is the first of ten weeks winter course in agriculture which course is especially designed to meet the needs of busy farmers who can devote only a limited amount of time to agricultural college work.

Particulars regarding the individual association meetings and the competitive exhibits, premium lists, etc., may be obtained by addressing the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism.

Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25¢ at any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

THE TIGHT WAD

We once knew a man who was so stingy to take the newspaper in his home town and always went over to borrow his neighbor's paper.

One evening he sent his son over to borrow the paper and while the son was on the way he ran into a large stand of bees and in a few minutes his face looked like a summer squash.

Hearing the agonized cries of the son, the father ran to his assistance, and, in doing so, ran into a barbed wire fence, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of trousers.

The old sow took advantage of the hole in the fence, got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the stingy man's wife ran out of the house, upsetting a four-gallon churn full of cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. She slipped on the cream

HUMOROUS INCIDENTS FOUND IN WAR TIME

The press dispatches appearing in the papers last week about the death of Lord Roberts, recalled to the editor of The Times an amusing incident which occurred during the Boer War in South Africa, when he was serving under Lord Roberts' command. The story appeared in print at that time, and has since then been rehashed by various newspapers and appeared under different guises, but this is the original, and can be vouchered for by at least three other Kentuckians, who were in the same brigade.

Lord Roberts, or "Bobs," as he was referred to by every "Tommy" in the British service, was a martinet, who would take no back talk from any one, and who wanted his orders obeyed at once when they were given, without any questions or any comments. While stationed at Pietermaritzburg, in Natal, for a short time, some of his brother officers thought to have a little fun at "Bob's" expense, and one of them was detailed to tell him that his favorite horse, Major, was dead. The intention was merely to see the effect of this information on him and then to inform him of the truth, but the game was, in a way, spoiled, when a dispatch rider came up at that moment with important information concerning the enemy, and the matter was forgotten by all except the chief. Shortly afterwards he came out of his tent, and calling his groom, an Irishman, ordered him to go and take his hide off "Major,"

Court day at Winchester Monday was a very quiet one owing to the fact that the stockyards and bring it to him. The groom started to inform the commander-in-chief that the horse was picketed out with the others, but was interrupted by "Bobs," who curtly ordered him to do as he was told. This was about 8 o'clock in the morning, and it was noon when the groom reported back with the hide, whereupon "Bobs" demanded to know the cause of the delay. The groom then politely told him that "Major" had broken his picket rope, and it required two hours' hard work to catch him.

Of course, explanations were demanded by the commander-in-chief, but they were rather lame, and "Bobs" got back at the guilty ones in an unexpected way, as it happened that about a week after this occurrence, a wagon load of supplies, which was being forwarded for the officers of this division, was lost between Durban and Pietermaritzburg, and for a month the officers had to make shift with the same rations as were served out to the "Tommies." The quartermaster in charge of the transport afterwards declared that he got special orders from the commander-in-chief to "sidetrack" that wagon, and as a result the officers were compelled to without their wine, and other little delicacies which they had been accustomed to having.

This was about 8 o'clock in the morning, and it was noon when the groom reported back with the hide, whereupon "Bobs" demanded to know the cause of the delay. The groom then politely told him that "Major" had broken his picket rope, and it required two hours' hard work to catch him.

Of course, explanations were demanded by the commander-in-chief, but they were rather lame, and "Bobs" got back at the guilty ones in an unexpected way, as it happened that about a week after this occurrence, a wagon load of supplies, which was being forwarded for the officers of this division, was lost between Durban and Pietermaritzburg, and for a month the officers had to make shift with the same rations as were served out to the "Tommies." The quartermaster in charge of the transport afterwards declared that he got special orders from the commander-in-chief to "sidetrack" that wagon, and as a result the officers were compelled to without their wine, and other little delicacies which they had been accustomed to having.

were closed by order of the county live stock inspector, and no stock was offered for sale. There was only a small crowd in town, and most of them were from this section of the country. Some way or another, Powell county people seem to gravitate toward Winchester for Court day, and this only goes to show the necessity of having a regular sale day here once a month, when Powell county people could meet to buy and sell stock without having to travel away from home.

Over at Irvine steps are being taken to establish a regular court day sale, and the Clay City Commercial Club is also working on those lines. As soon as the cattle trade is settled down from the scare from the foot and mouth disease, active preparations will be made to have a sale day established here.

HORSES DYING

Saturday afternoon, last, Ira Foster was driving along Main street in front of the Court House when his horse sickened, fell and died in a few minutes.

A few days ago the horse of Za Boen became suddenly ill and died in a short time.

About a week ago the horses of A. J. Riddell, Millard Brown and Oscar Jackson, occupying adjacent farms, died suddenly within a few days of each other—Richmond Climax-Madisonian.

FAMOUS JACK BREEDER DIES

Thomas C. R. Adams, one of the most noted Jack breeders in Central Kentucky, died last Saturday at his home at Athens, Fayette county. Mr. Adams was 88 years of age, and was born at Indian Fields. He started in the breeding of blooded jacks shortly after the Civil war, and was one of the pioneers in that business in Kentucky. He was well known by many Powell county people.

A. J. Curtis is moving to the farm of his son in-law, Everett Barnett.

Mrs. Belle Burgher will shortly begin the erection of a new residence on her farm near here.

Geo. S. Ware, who recently moved from this place to Camargo, Montgomery county, has sold his crop of corn here to various parties at $3.00 per barrel for picked corn in the field. We failed to learn the price obtained for the short corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bivard C. Rogers have returned from Indianapolis, Ind., where they have spent the summer and fall. They will again return to Indianapolis in the spring, where Mr. Rogers does contracting work during the spring, summer and fall months.

Berry Hall while driving a team Friday came near getting a serious injury. The team suddenly turned to one side and ran the end of the wagon tongue against the barn door through which he was entering, which caused an instant stop of the wagon, pitching Mr. Hall forward with great force. He struck the wagon tongue and became entangled with the team which was then inclined to run, but was stopped by Mr. Zeke Conner, who was present when the accident occurred. Mr. Hall escaped with a painful cut above an eye and a few bruises about his face.

BRIDGE NEARLY COMPLETED

The immense railroad bridge being erected over the Red River, near Vienna, is now about completed, all the superstructure having been put in place. With the laying of steel, the new Winchester-Irvine line of the L. & N. several hundred employees of the road will be located permanently in Irvine. 200 of these are to be there by January 1, and by the middle of January fully 1,500 are to be added to the population of the town. This information is said to have been received from officials who are in a position to know.

VALUE OF PREPARED FEED.

At the beginning of the feeding season it is well that farmers should study the most economical method of feeding the product of the farm. But very few farmers fail to produce enough to feed through the winter, but many of them fail to make the feed they produce do them through the winter. The whole trouble is in the way the feed is given to the live stock.

All experiment stations have found that more than 25 per cent of all the unground grains fed to stock passes through the animals without being digested at all. This means that one-fourth of all the corn fed is lost for lack of proper preparation before being fed. Where the grain is properly ground and regularly and economically fed there is no loss at all. When stock are first taken up from grass their teeth and gums become so sore that in many instances the loss of feed for the lack of proper grinding often runs as high as 50 per cent. The same per cent of loss is continually maintained by feeding whole corn to aged animals which usually have rotten teeth or diseased gums.

Every farmer should not fail to have all his corn ground before feeding it. It not only goes much further, but it also insures much more even feeding, and when the feed is ground and then weighed, it is easy to divide the amount of feed on hand by the number of days to feed and the number of stock to be fed. In this way you can accurately regulate your feeding. Where it is possible to do this, and to give the same amount of feed at the same time every day it is safe to say that the same feed will go twice as far as it is now made to go by giving it to the animals in an unprepared state and at different times each day, according to our own convenience, as most farmers do.

When we think we have only half enough feed to run us through the winter we really have fully enough if this feed were only properly prepared and regularly fed. Take the advice of one who has tried it, and see if these words are not true. It will cost you but little to try, and will profit you ten fold if you do try.

and persevere only long enough to convince you, as it surely will, those more fortunate, in the reading of their own private documents, who cannot read a deed or legal document they are asked to sign in the regular routine of business, and who cannot even sign any document, but have to make their mark, and have the signature made by some other party, and witness their mark to it. Of

An editorial in a Lexington paper makes a strong objection to the high prices charged there for various necessities. Rents are exorbitant, taxes are too high, and the prices of foodstuffs of all kinds are much higher in the country. Country people have much to be thankful for.

The Thanksgiving season is always welcomed by a large number of professional turkey pickers, who are always to be found in the cities where large numbers of the birds are killed for shipment. The regular rate of pay is four cents a bird for picking, and one colored picker in Lexington recently picked 102 birds in a day.

THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLITERACY

There are two hundred thousand Kentuckians who can neither read nor write. Did you ever stop to consider this, and figure out what it means to the country at large. 200,000 people in this State who cannot participate as be put. Such a man cannot read the Bible, to study the word of God, and the churches lose thereby; he cannot read the papers, and make himself conversant with current affairs, having to take the hearsay, and very often being misled; he cannot write his conclusions or opinions, and submit them to others. In numerous ways his burden is heavy on him, and those who are more fortunate should assist in the good work of helping others along.

Many, in their youth, were unable, for various reasons, to get the education that would have assisted them so much in later years. Schools were not as accessible a few years ago as they are now, and it was harder for the young people to obtain an education than seems possible at this time. It is only a short time that a Rowan county school teacher, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, started her famous unconflict schools, which have done so much good.

More is being done this year than ever before to wipe out illiteracy in the State, and a greater interest is being manifested in the work. Moonlight schools have been started in practically every county in the State, and the Woman's Forward Movement is taking active steps in wiping out the stain of illiteracy in Kentucky. It will require time and money to bring this about, but who would not contribute to this worthy cause. Why not establish a moonlight school in Clay City, where those not able to read and write can be taught by these more fortunate. Many have volunteered to assist in teaching, and there is no reason why we should not establish such a school for this winter.
